Rena, thank you for keeping us looped in. This would indeed solve our issue – I'm going to speak to Lorena to see if we can get something in writing as well.

Hello all!

So, Brian at DCBID spoke to the REcylaLA folks and they have stated that the DCBID is exempt. So, we are assuming all BIDs are exempt. See discussion below. We just need to use an approved hauler (via the link below). We do not need to use one of the four franchise haulers.

After you've looked at this vendor list, let me know your thoughts. Do we think this solves our issue?

Rena

Good Morning,

See below, I am sure if they exempt the DCBID all BID's would be exempt. I would call Lorena just to be sure and to get it in writing for your respective BID.
